Whole Brain

This last October I decided to participate in an Arts Craft competition. I found out about it in the last 3 weeks before submission closed, forcing me to have to work more diligently than usual. Usually my art is explosive and random and creation exemplified, but I didn't have all the time in the world. Of course I had made something really creative and artistic but in order to finish it I had to break down my time into time I'd be working on the piece and time for life stuff. I was also forced to pick color groupings for sections so as to get it done faster and not overwhelm myself rather than just coloring at random. I feel I successfully used my whole brain.

Hi My name is Judah, Im looking to use various tech, media, and mediums to bring Quality Art and Passion into the forefront of human values in society by making connections and collaborating/working with creative/passionate individuals on Projects that will make art more valued in every day life.
